

Association for Institutional Thought

CALL FOR PARTICIPANTS

The annual meeting of the Association for Institutional Thought will be held

April 26-29, 1995
Oakland, California

AFIT is an international organization dedicated to the development of an economics with a greater focus on institutional analysis and programmatic social change. AFIT meets annually in conjunction with the WESTERN SOCIAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION. AFIT draws around 80 registered participants each year and its sessions are well attended with an average audience of 30-50.

December 1st is the deadline for proposals. Those wishing to propose complete panels are encouraged to contact Ron Stanfield for informal feedback before the deadline.

Final proposals must include the name, affiliation, address, phone number and, if possible, also FAX number and electronic mail address.

All proposals should be sent by December 1 to

James Ronald Stanfield
Department of Economics
Colorado State University
Fort Collins, CO 80523

Phone: 303-491-6891 (office, with voice mail)
303-221-0671 (Home, with voice mail)
FAX: 303-491-2925
Internet: rstanfield@vines.colostate.edu